Sensys Gatso receives an order from Australia worth SEK 7.3 million

Sensys Gatso Group, a global leader in traffic safety solutions, has through its subsidiary Sensys Gatso Australia, received an order worth AUD 1.1 million, corresponding to SEK 7.3 million, for the upgrade of traffic safety systems to the New South Wales Government based on Automatic Number Plate Recognition (ANPR) technology.

The order is for the upgrade of traffic safety systems at selected highway sites in the State of New South Wales. The upgrades are expected to be completed by the end of 2019.

Sensys Gatso Australia's Managing Director Enzo Dri comments: "The upgrade of traffic safety technology at the selected highway locations will help to ensure the existing network of traffic safety systems delivers ongoing road safety benefits to the State of New South Wales. We are pleased to assist the State of NSW in the ongoing reduction of injuries and fatalities across the road network with our high integrity ANPR solutions."
